Recommendation letter

Elkina Galina Alexandrovna worked in our company "Moscow School of Programmers" from October 16, 2020 to May 31, 2022 in several positions.

As the head of the methodological department, I worked with Elkina G.A. as with the methodologist of the school. Her responsibilities included the development of materials for lessons on the Azov Programming course for 5th grade children and course support.

As a course developer, Galina proved to be a very creative and diligent employee. She was able to improve the course in the first semester by 5%, and the course in the second semester by 15% according to the results of a survey of students.

Galina also helped the course teachers in preparing for the classes, answering questions in a chat or in a personal or group meeting on the Zoom platform.

For the past six months, Galina has been acting as a curator for senior teachers. In this position, Galina communicated with methodologists on course support: answers in subject chats and collection of statistics. She helped answer questions and solve problems. this group of methodologists, if any, set tasks in this area of work of employees and tracked their implementation, and also compiled free-form reports in the form of a table to track the results of support.

Based on the results of this half-year, the efficiency of the work of the employees of this group increased and the courses that were accompanied under the leadership of Galina improved.

Elkina G.A. proved herself not only as a creative developer, but also as a very responsible team leader. She excelled in the tasks assigned to her, maintained a friendly atmosphere in the department and showed high results, even when she was required to complete the task in the shortest possible time. She is a first responder you can rely on in any situation.

Galina left our company of her own free will, as she wanted to develop in the field of development, not education. I recommend her for employment without any restrictions.
